Accreditation & Affiliations

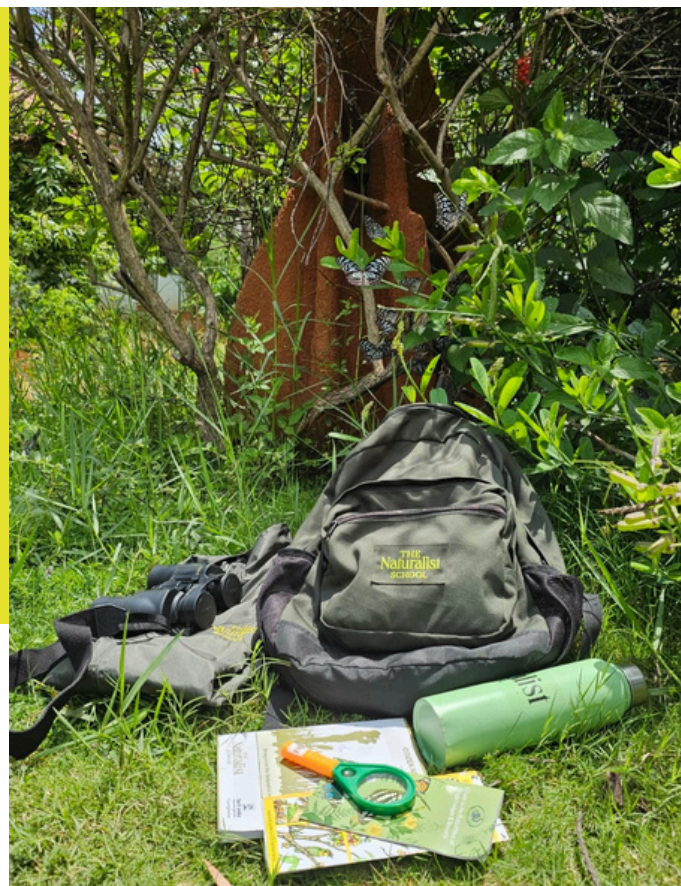

While India's eco-tourism market continues to grow, structured educational pathways for nature guides and naturalists have been notably absent. No formal, credible mainstream programs existed for those aspiring to become nature guides, safari guides, or naturalists. This gap has now been bridged through pioneering initiatives by government agencies, industry bodies, and training providers, creating new opportunities for aspiring professionals.

Job roles of Naturalists and Nature Guides are now officially established under the MSDE Skill India Scheme and published in the National Qualification Register.

The Qualification Packs (QP) managed by the Tourism and Hospitality Skill Council (THSC) ensure curriculum standards are industry driven

The Naturalist School (TNS), in partnership with the Tourism and Hospitality Skills Council (THSC), has developed Qualification Packs (QPs) aligned with the National Occupational Standards (NOS). This curriculum is further integrated with the National Skills Qualification Framework (NSQF) of the University Grants Commission (UGC), enabling students to seamlessly transfer credits toward other courses of study—potentially culminating in a B. Voc degree.

The Naturalist School offers the ONLY Accredited Naturalist Certification Course in India today.

This Qualification Pack has been developed under the 'Skill India' scheme of the Ministry of Skill Development & Entrepreneurship (MSDE). The National Council for Vocational Education and Training (NCVET), as the apex body, validates all Qualification Packs and eligibility criteria through Sectoral Skill Councils (SSC), ensuring the highest standards of professional training.

Change makers

Eco-tourism in India plays a vital role in fostering sustainable development, conserving biodiversity, empowering local communities, and raising environmental awareness. By enabling visitors to experience both natural and cultural treasures, eco-tourism ensures that these valuable resources are preserved for future generations.

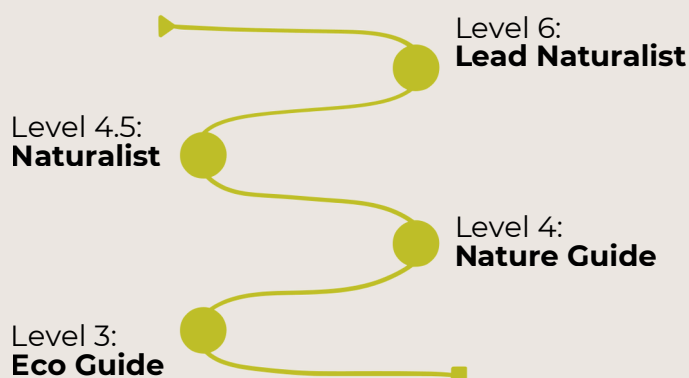

Its key principles include minimizing environmental impact, supporting local communities, and providing educational and interpretive experiences. Eco-tourism strives to balance tourism activities with the conservation of natural resources, biodiversity, and cultural heritage.

Naturalists & Nature Guides

Naturalists and Nature Guides are at the heart of eco-tourism, acting as interpreters and educators for visitors. Their expertise helps travellers connect with the natural environment and fosters a deeper appreciation for conservation principles.

Through their guidance, individuals can explore and enjoy a destination's natural beauty and cultural richness in a responsible way—actively contributing to both conservation efforts and sustainable development.

* Each level signifies a progressive mastery of guiding and interpretive skills, empowering individuals to drive positive change in eco-tourism.
